The need was at least as good as the obtained with the comparison instruments. The analytical performance of the SELECTIVE MultiTESTE MultiTeste spectrum analyzer was studied according to the ECCLS guidelines and partially the CERMAB protocol in a multi-central evaluation involving laboratories of six European countries. At Abbott, our solutions are used in health institutions, medical consultation, emergency rooms and thousands of times a day, in practically all the world's countries. The recovery for the method attributed to the control sera was, with few exceptions, 10%. ABBOTT, ABBOTT PARK, ILLINOIS, USA. To help our customers achieve performance measurably better in the health area, Abbott has created an approach offering custom solutions. The content is allocated only to health professionals. The availability of the product varies according to the country. We know that laboratories work best, offer results that drive the best patient care and improve the value of health treatment. Fifteen analytes, including serene, potassium and chloride electronics, each in at least 3 laboratories were measured, all at 37 degrees C, except the electrons, which are measured at room temperature. An advanced and fully automated instrument, PICCOLO is used at the point of service in a variety of environments, both hospital and outpatient, including urgent care clinics, oncology clinics, laboratory laboratories, pediatric consultation And many others. Alinity, our next generation of systems, in important laboratory disciplines, such as main laboratory, transfusion, molecular and is designed to simplify diagnoses ³ help deliver results that drive better patient care.
